

Claremont is an island and needs no freeway

If cities have personalities, and there is every indication that they do, then the city of Claremont is a romantic, a poet, a Shelley or a Byron. It is the fervent wish of the citizens of Claremont to do nothing more than live happily ever after -- to just sit there, unburdened, on their tree-lined streets beneath the porticos of their hallowed halls of higher learning. And, they are willing to pay the price.

The citizens of Claremont are circulating an initiative petition which will force a special election which will, in turn, force the city council to adopt an ordinance rescinding its contract with the State of California Department of Highways in regards to the Foothill Freeway.

There is little doubt in anyone's mind but that the citizens of Claremont will succeed with both their initiative petition and their election. The Claremont city attorney has ruled, however, that such an election might constitute a misuse of public funds and the city could be subject to some action from the State.

Moreover, the state would not recognize the results of such an election. In any event, if the City of Claremont tries to get out of its contract with the State Division of Highways, a lawsuit will probably follow by the Highway Department.

Meanwhile Claremont's neighbors to the east grow restless lest the little city really be successful in killing the freeway that is considered so vital in Upland, Alta Loma, Rialto and Redlands. Representatives of these cities have gone to Claremont on bended knee. They have reasoned, they have pleaded and implored, they have scolded and kidded and barbed, and still Claremont holds out.

At a five-hour public hearing on Monday night, Nov. 1, the city council and its staff, representatives of the State Highway Division and an audience that filled the Garrison Theater, listened as one after another opponent and proponent discussed the Freeway. Mostly they all said the same thing. The residents of Claremont do not want the freeway, do not think it is necessary, cannot live with it, and will not have it.

The proponents want the freeway, fear the future without it, think it is vital and cannot understand the 'provincialism' on the part of those who do not want it.

Representatives from the cities of Upland, Ontario, Redlands, Rialto, Fontana and the County of San Bernardino told of great need for the freeway east of Claremont. Cucamonga property owners John R. Haigh and Alta Loma residents Roy Houtz and A. L. Cherbak spoke of the high fatalities on 19th Street as a result of that street being the only State Highway through that corridor.

From Upland, they came to support the freeway, Tony Beltrutti and Dewey Cable, John Meyer and John J. Ross. Hal Bailin spoke both as president of the Foothill Freeway Association and as a Councilman of Upland. Former mayor Abner B. Haldeman made an emotional appeal. "I grew up in America at a time when a man honored his contracts," he said. "Have we come to a time in America when contracts signed in good faith and a man's word mean nothing?"

All to no avail. The people of Claremont were not moved. One after another they knocked down the proponents of the freeway with their distaste for the population and pollution the freeway is sure to bring. Claremont resident Phil Ordway referred to the city as an "island of thought," where a people want to preserve a way of life.

In the end the council took no action on the freeway or their contract with the Division of Highways, but did vote to have another meeting soon in the hope that "could work out a solution to everyone's problems wherein everyone can be happy." Romantic city, Claremont.

Economy up, chamber told

The year of 1972 will be a "good" year or at least a year of moderate growth. But at any rate, the recession is over. The question now is how fast will the recovery come. These are the words of Joseph Wahed, an economist with the Wells Fargo Bank in San Francisco.

Speaking to the Upland Chamber of Commerce recently, Wahed said that unemployment, interest rates and inflation in general are expected to decrease during the next twelve months while growth output is expected to rise.

When the wage price freeze is lifted, individual salaries will be related to productivity. Individuals with high productivity will get higher increases in pay than individuals with low productivity, the economist said.

Based on long range forecasts derived from an economic study of San Bernardino County which Wahed conducted several years ago, he said the growth of California has slowed tremendously and can be expected to continue to grow at the slower rate. "There will still be growth, but communities like Upland and others of the West End are going to have to work a lot harder to go out and bring it in," he said.

It is optimistic to expect any kind of a boom. The economy is on the rise, but everything is going to go slowly. "It takes time to move a trillion dollar economy," he said.

He lives his art

The maestro is unflappable

In Vienna where the grand opera is part of everyday life and where opera houses are filled the year round, the careful observer will note that the audiences are made up of two distinct groups -- the very old and the very young. Missing is that whole generation that came up in Austria during the war years and who were never exposed to the drama of the operatic stage. These are the conclusions of Stefan Petroff, founder and maestro of the West End Opera Company.

"The great dramas of mankind, the greatest moments in history, have been set down in opera," Petroff said. "But sad as it is, unless people are exposed to the opera when they are young, they often spend their entire lives and never share the moments of past glory."

Petroff finds that children are often more receptive and eager for the old stories and dramas that are sung in the opera than their parents. His West End Opera Company productions often draw as large an audience for the children's dress rehearsal as they do for the actual performances.

If Petroff has his way, the next generation of adults in the West End will be completely won over and will find that their lives are quite incomplete without several performances each year of a full opera production.

When the West End Opera Company presents La Boheme at the Gardiner Spring Auditorium, Chaffey High School, on Saturday, Nov. 6, with Petroff at the podium, it will be the twelfth full opera production for the little opera company since 1965 and an estimated 2,000 children will have attended the dress rehearsal the evening before.

The dream to start an opera company in the West End was Petroff's own. As an impeccably trained operatic baritone and conductor, he could have gone to where the great opera companies are already in existence and lived very nicely performing almost whenever he chose.

Petroff's father was the famous baritone, Ivan Petroff. He taught Stefan to sing as he was learning to talk and the boy sang professionally for the first time when he was five. His young life was so absorbed in music and in the opera that he never saw an opera from the audience until he was 21.

At eleven, he conducted his first symphony of 140 musicians, and almost from that day, conducting has been his greatest love. His studies have taken him to New York, Italy and recently to Austria.

Unlike the stereotyped temperamental artist, the easy-going Bulgarian is unflappable. Singers love to sing for him because as a singer himself, he feels their needs. "He gives me time to breathe," one soprano in his latest production said. Musicians love to play for him because they always know exactly what he expects of them.

Why all this "cool" from an artist so young and one so obviously struggling for his own brand of success? Because Stefan Petroff is a man completely at home with and at ease with his art. He gives himself totally and completely to his students, to his cast, and to his own performances. He literally lives his art.

Upland teens win honor for fight against birth defects

They started it all

Two Upland High School students, Robin Wilson, a freshman, and Becci Newlan, a sophomore, were among the first 100 girls who originated the Mod Squad in 1969 at Upland Junior High under the direction of Bob Nolan, principal and San Bernardino County Director of the March of Dimes. There are now 50 Mod Squads in the United States who work to fight birth defects.

Teenagers are taking over the March of Dimes all across the County. And it all began here in Upland three years ago.

The first Mod Squad in the country was started at Upland Junior High in 1969 under the direction of Robert Nolan, principal, who also happens to be the San Bernardino County Director of the March of Dimes. The organization of 100 seventh and eighth grade girls collected $1500 to fight birth defects in 1969. Last year the Upland Junior High Mod Squad had grown to 150 members and more than $7,000 was collected for the March of Dimes.

There are now more than 50 Mod Squads in the United States patterned from the Upland Junior High club. Last week in San Francisco, the National Youth Director of the March of Dimes Foundation paid special tribute to the Upland Mod Squad and an award was made to them in appreciation of their work in birth defects.

"These girls have just taken over the Mothers March on birth defects," said Mrs. Frank Gant, president of the Upland Junior Women's Club, which sponsors the Mod Squad. Mrs. Gant was 1970 chairman of the Mother's March on Birth Defects in Upland.

"The Mod Squad did most of the March," Mrs. Gant said. "It is difficult to get mothers to volunteer and they were so eager to help. They've agreed to handle the Mother's March again in January, and we can hardly believe our good luck."

In addition to the Mother's annual March, the Mod Squad will assist the Upland Juniors in a Bike-A-Thon at the Ontario Motor Speedway Saturday, Nov. 6, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., to raise money for the March of Dimes.

The Bike-A-Thon will be a 20 mile ride using the regular race track for the ride route. Kids of all ages will obtain sponsors at 10 cents a mile and ride their bicycles to fight birth defects.

The Mod Squad will march at the beginning of the Bike-A-Thon. They will assist the Upland Juniors in keeping track records for riders, and some will actually ride in the Bike-A-Thon.

Spectators will recognize the Mod Squad by their bright red skirts and big Go Mod badges on their bright yellow blouses.

Mrs. Gant urges everyone to remember those bright uniforms. "You're going to be seeing a lot of them. And please remember they are official representatives of the National March of Dimes and they are working very hard to fight birth defects," she said.

Remember they're girls

Peggy Wilson, Janet Webb, Kathy Lucero and Irene Rivera dressed in the bright red skirts and yellow blouses of the Upland Junior High Mod Squad will lead a march at the beginning of the Nov. 6 Bike-A-Thon for the March of Dimes at the Ontario Motor Speedway. The Mod Squad has virtually taken over the annual Mothers March on Birth Defects, according to Mrs. Frank Gant, chairman of the March. Mrs. Gant, who is also president of the Upland Junior Women's Club which sponsors the Mod Squad, urges everyone to remember the bright uniforms as the official representatives of the March of Dimes.

OUT OF MY MIND.....

Happy Birthday time

It's Happy Birthday for all November celebrants. Astrologically speaking, you are a Scorpio. Check your favorite fortune cookie, book, seer or newspaper for your future and have a Happy Birthday.

Other holidays in November include Nov. 25, Thanksgiving, and a new holiday, Nov. 21, is Uncle's Day. And you know what is after November, THE DAY. For romantics, a new moon will rise on Nov. 17. For those who observe the Chinese calendar, this is the year of the Boar and next year will be the year of the Rat. It's a quiet month for people who are famous. The calendar lists none.

Editor's notebook

Tuesday it was the West End Opera Guild's Aperitivo and it was elegant. These fine ladies have devoted many hours and much money to bring the opera to the area. The guild was chartered in 1970 and one of its strongest boosters is Mrs. G. Harvey Doody. She has hosted the first Aperitivo at her home and has worked endlessly to promote the guild. Tuesday's affair was in Claremont, and again, the table decorations and all were lovely.

The W. E. Opera Guild has as its purpose to support and promote the W. E. Opera Association and the guild presents annually two opera previews, one gala fund raising event and a general membership meeting. Cost to be long is $5 and everyone in the area is invited to join. For further information, call Mrs. Gerad Rawle at 982-9214. The opera performance this year is Saturday, November 6, at 8 p.m. at Gardiner Spring Auditorium, Chaffey High School, Ontario.

Tickets are at all music stores and sell for $4.50, $3.50 and $2 for students. For information, call 987-2730.

THURSDAY was spent at the Walnut Valley Chamber meeting where Col. Walter F. Dunn, Jr., USA (ret) and assistant vice president of Coast and Southern Federal Savings gave an amusing talk titled "Take Command."

FRIDAY it was the Upland Chamber of Commerce meeting where Joseph Wahed, senior economic advisor, Wells Fargo Bank, San Francisco, spoke on "What's Going to Happen when the Freeze is Over?" He's an able speaker and said that the growth in this area has dropped dramatically. Economically, it will be harder to get businesses out here as there is so much competition. "Hopefully," he said, "the freeze and its aftermath will put faith back into the consumer, which is necessary for a healthy economy. Also, the freeze should slow down the spiraling costs of wages and prices."

Don't throw your old and worn bed sheets away. The American Cancer Society wants them, according to Lila Biggar, dressing unit chairman, of the ACS offices in West Covina and Pomona.

Volunteers use the bed sheets to wrap surgical bandages or dressings that the society prepares for the use of cancer patients who live in Pomona and East San Gabriel Valleys. These bandages are available free to cancer patients by calling the Society's office and requesting the service.

Both colored and white sheets are acceptable. Persons interested in donating sheets may bring them to the offices at 111 West Center St. in Pomona, or 1026 W. Garvey in the West Covina Plaza.

World Day plans made

Bethany Baptist Church will host the Church Women United of Ontario Communities for World Community Day on Friday, Nov. 5, at 10 a.m. A luncheon will follow at noon. According to Mrs. D. B. Milliken and Mrs. Carl E. Peterson, co-chairmen for this day, the theme is "This is My Father's World."

The program will be geared with ecology in mind and was compiled by The Earth Center of Upland. Taking part in this timely and important event are Rev. Robert Gillogly and the Celtic Youth Group from the First Presbyterian Church of Upland.

A discussion will follow led by Mrs. Sam Pearce, executive director of The Earth Center.

Also on the agenda will be a dedication of the articles of wearing apparel brought by all the women for Church World Service. Especially needed are baby clothing and good used men's clothes. The united church women sew and gather clothing all year for this event.

Citizens wanted to help others

LOS ANGELES--What's your special interest? Photography motorcycles, horses, mountain climbing or just an inner feeling that keeps reminding you that you would like to do more for your community? Perhaps all of these interests and others can be more fully enjoyed while you serve your community as a volunteer Reserve Deputy for the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department.

Sheriff Peter J. Pitchess has announced that during the entire month of November the Sheriff's Department will be actively seeking qualified men and women to perform a wide variety of exciting and personally rewarding jobs. Sheriff Pitchess said, "Even though we now have an extensive Reserve Unit, we cannot fulfill all of the demands that are being made, which is an indication of our Reserves' abilities and the ever increasing necessity for expanding the program."

The Sheriff's Reserve program is composed of over eleven hundred highly trained men and women who are in a state of immediate readiness to supplement regular Department personnel during both routine and emergent situations. Three main units compose the structure of the Reserve Forces: The Uniform Reserve, the Mounted Posse, and Mountain Rescue Teams. Specialized sub-units such as the Motorcycle Patrol, Photographic Reserve, Technical Reserve, Medical Staff and Lady Reserve Company operate within the framework of the Uniform Reserve Unit.

Members of the Uniform Reserve Unit and the Technical Reserves receive 300 hours of training at the Sheriff's Academy. The Uniform Reserves are qualified to perform all phases of law enforcement and supplement the Patrol Division by riding as second man in radio patrol cars. Respectively, Technical and Photographic Reserves must have skills in electronics, knowledge of communication equipment, photography and motion picture production. Many of the Department's special units utilize the special talents of these reserves.

The Reserve Motorcycle Detail's duties include traffic enforcement and control in both routine and emergency situations and participate in such occasions as the Annual Pasadena Rose Parade. Each of the fourteen Sheriff's Stations has a Mounted Posse Unit. Each Posseman completes a 56 hour training program and is utilized in the field of mountain search and rescue. Most recently the Possemen participated in a search for a missing three-year old girl in the Magic Mountain and Valencia area. The Reserve Mountain Search and Rescue Teams are composed of highly technically trained mountaineers who since July 1st have been called out 35 times to assist injured or stranded hikers, hunters, and lost or missing persons.

Citizens interested in applying for the Sheriff's Volunteer Reserves are urged to call 626-9511, extension 82041. Young men and women who are interested in a career as a regular Deputy Sheriff are asked to call the Sheriff's Recruitment Unit at 626-9511, extension 82846.

Cancer Society looking for former participants

SAN BERNARDINO--In October a great search will get underway in San Bernardino County for more than 4,000 county men and women who were last heard from in 1965.

That was the year when the San Bernardino County unit completed its part in the nationwide

American Cancer Society Cancer Prevention Study conducted "to obtain information on factors associated with the occurrence of cancer," according to Mrs. Ruth Feuerstein, Executive Director of the Society's San Bernardino County Unit.

During the life of this statistical study--from 1959 to 1965--68,000 American Cancer Society volunteers kept track of more than one million Americans who had provided the Society with details of family history, past diseases, smoking habits, etc. In San Bernardino County 213 Society volunteers and 4,000 subjects participated.

The information that resulted furnished researchers with valuable information on personal and environmental factors associated with the disease, according to Mrs. Feuerstein.

"Now, twelve years after the study began, enough time has elapsed for meaningful information to be accumulated about other, slower growing forms of cancer," she related. "Thus," she added, "the Society decided to resume the study."

Scientists believe the new study will yield much data the original study could not.

Among the answers they hope to find are whether the reduction of tar and nicotine in cigarettes in the past 10 years has reduced the harmful effects of smoking and whether certain compounds cause particular cancers in industrial workers, Mrs. Feuerstein declared.

If you were a Researcher in the original study or would like to volunteer in this most important effort, call the American Cancer Society, San Bernardino Office 882-3791 or Ontario office 983-2784.

Opera is in the air

UPLAND -- The Fall Season of the West End Opera Company is in full swing and one can almost feel the vibrations in the air. In preparation for the November 6 production of Puccini's "La Boheme," the ladies of the Opera Association seem to be everywhere at once.

At an afternoon aperitivo and opera preview, 125 association members and guests heard Dr. Norma Goodrich, dean of faculty at Scripps College, tell the story of the beautiful young girl and her Bohemian life that led to her eventual death, which makes up the story of "La Boheme." Dr. Goodrich, the product of a musical family, abandoned music for literature, but returned to her family tradition to make La Boheme come alive for the guests of Mrs. William Stahl, in whose home the preview was held.

Mrs. Fred Gattas, President of the West End Opera Guild, welcomed guests and introduced the program chairman, Mrs. Clifford Nellis, who in turn presented Dr. Goodrich.

Those receiving guests in addition to Mrs. Stahl and Mrs. Gattas were Mrs. Kenneth Kuchar and Mrs. Ivan Petroff. Aperitivo pourers consisted of Mmes. Lee W. Beck, Michael Biane, Richard Browne, Zivce Calor, Richard Davidson, Rosalie Jacobsen, Jarrett T. Lake, Glenn M. Reeder, and Donald L. Vairin. Mrs. James L. Vaiserved as Aperitivo chairman.

Guest book was attended by Mrs. Gerard Rawle and Mrs. Daniel W. Maher. Special name tags were furnished by Mrs. L. J. Keeney.

Those pouring tea and punch were Mmes. Achilles Anton, Donald E. Anderson, George M. Gibson, Hershel R. Glenn, Leo X. Lucas, Anthony P. Colonna, Salvatore Gullo, John F. Henderson, Max M. Hawkins Jr., Joseph Piscioneri, Frank Lesinsky and Vernon V. Paine.

Mmes. Harvey G. Doody, Laird Pierce, Clarence G. Scholl, Karl Seligman and Dominic N. Cavaliere served as hostesses. Mrs. Kuchar served as general Aperitivo - Opera Preview chairman and Mrs. Allen A. Magdovitz served as Tea chairman.

Food preparations were made by the Mmes. Harold A. Bailin, Lesinsky, Clarence G. Scholl, Doody, Earl B. Gardner.

Mrs. Doody, founder of the West End Opera Guild, and co-founder Mrs. Cesare Vai, assumed numerous duties during the day and a scrapbook containing news coverage of the Opera Guild's activities was on display.

For information regarding the opera performances, call 987-2730, 985-4613, 626-0138.

Hearing the vibrations

The West End Opera Association annual aperitivo and opera preview was hosted by Mrs. William Stahl, left, and Mrs. Kenneth Kuchar, chairman of the tea which followed the preview. More than 125 guests filled Mrs. Stahl's home with the vibrations of "La Boheme," as Dr. Norma Goodrich, Scripps College dean of faculty reviewed the upcoming production by the West End Opera Company directed by Stefan Petroff, conductor and founder of the opera company.

Bridge games help charity

LOS ANGELES -- The American Contract Bridge League has named United Cerebral Palsy's 1972 "Charity of the Year," according to Harris R. Sherline, President of United Cerebral Palsy Association of Los Angeles County.

It is expected that proceeds ranging up to a total of $250,000 will be gained from tournaments sponsored by the League for the support of research in the causes and prevention of cerebral palsy.

Benjamin O. Johnson, president of the ACBL Foundation, said that the 170,000-member League will sponsor two nationwide charity games next year for the benefit of United Cerebral Palsy. In addition many of the 6,000 local clubs and units affiliated with the league will sponsor other tournaments for the same cause.

Over the past 20 years the League has donated more than $3.5 million through its charity foundation for the advancement of medical research and science and for social welfare.

United Cerebral Palsy provides care and services to cerebral palsied patients and their families through 250 affiliates across the nation. The agency also sponsors an extensive program of research through its Research and Educational Foundation.

Jack Hausman, chairman of the Foundation, said in accepting the ACBL grant that the Foundation is now projecting a level of more than one million dollars a year in new research projects beginning in 1972.

Cerebral palsy is a multihandicapping condition resulting from damage to the brain, usually incurred before or during the first 750,000 Americans.

Taxes due

LOS ANGELES -- Real estate owners in Los Angeles County are reminded by County Tax Collector Harold J. Ostly that their property taxes are due and payable on Nov. 1.

Ostly, who collects taxes for all local agencies, mailed tax bills on that date.

Citizens not receiving their bills by Nov. 10 or having questions about their billings are advised to call 626-6311.

Ostly said a total of 1,849,275 real estate tax bills have been issued for fiscal year 1971-72 by his office.

Total real estate tax, including County schools, cities, except Pasadena, the Flood Control District, the Metropolitan Water District, and other special districts will run $2,159,187,725.

According to the Tax Collector, large corporations, utility companies, and other owners of multiple parcels of real estate along with mortgage companies having impound accounts cooperate with his office by picking up over 600,000 tax bills.

This results in considerable postage savings to the County.

Remaining in the Tax Collector's office are 3,400 bills without a mailing address which must be picked up by the taxpayer, Ostly added.

Calif. leads in vet population

LOS ANGELES - California maintained its position as the state with the largest veterans' population -- 3,075,000 -- according to Gordon R. Elliott, Director of VA's Southern California Regional Office.

Total U.S. veteran population, swelled by 5,138,000 veterans of the Vietnam Era, reached 28,288,000 as of the end of last fiscal year.

Vietnam veterans are now the second largest group in the veteran population. Excluding career servicemen who served during both the Korean and Vietnam periods, Vietnam veterans total 4.8 million, compared to 4.6 million Korean veterans (excluding those who served in World War II).

When veterans of previous wars are included, total participants during the Vietnam Era is 5.1 million, compared to 5.8 million for the Korean period.

While Vietnam is second as the conflict that produced the largest number of "new" veterans, it is still far behind World War II with 16,535,000 participants. With 14,294,000 survivors, the World War II veteran population is down 164,000 from last year, Elliott estimated.

About 1,408,000 World War I veterans are living today, a drop of 124,000 since last year's census. With an average age of 76.6 years, they are still "youngsters" compared to the 4,000 Spanish-American war veterans, whose average age is 92 years.

Average ages for the younger veteran groups are: World War II -- 51.6; Korean Conflict -- 42; and Vietnam Era -- 27.1. Among Vietnam veterans, some 36,000 are under 20 and 1,776,000 are under 25 years of age.

Volunteers wanted

SAN DIMAS -- The Well Baby Clinics held on the first and third Mondays of every month in the San Dimas Civic Center, are in need of volunteers, according to Dr. Herbert Meehan, District Health Officer for the Pomona Health District.

Volunteers are needed to assist the pediatrician and nurse who staff the clinic. These volunteers have a variety of things to do: greet mothers as they enter, help arrange charts and chairs, or explain clinic procedure to new patients. They may also assist with the supervision of any preschoolers present. They may assist the nurse by weighing and measuring the infant, or by preparing the child for the doctor's examination.

While greeting mother and child, the volunteer takes note of any symptoms of illness, such as coughing, sneezing, or a skin rash, and brings this to the nurse's attention.

The Well Baby Clinic is a service provided for San Dimas parents by the Los Angeles County Health Department. The clinic registers children from birth to six months of age, services are then continued until their second birthday. Nutrition immunizations, and any special problem of the baby or mother are discussed with the doctor and nurse.

November 15 is the next date for the clinic held in the San Dimas Civic Center, 245 E. Bonita Ave., at 8:30 a.m. to 10 a.m. Anyone who is interested in becoming a volunteer may call the Pomona Health Center, 623-6811 extension 513 or 523 and leave name, address and phone number.

Open House at Reach Out

Preparations are well underway at Reach Out West End for their First Annual Open House. Setting up the invitation list are from left Linda Monahan, of Cucamonga, secretary; Al Hutton Director and Donnie Brown of Montclair, member of the Board of Directors. The public is invited during the week of Nov. 8 through 14 to meet the new director and become acquainted with the many counseling programs offered at the facility at 404 W. D Street in Ontario. Friday Nov. 12 has been named Professional Day and plans are underway for a more formal gathering on Sunday, Nov. 14. Refreshments will be served.

Littering from cars illegal

SACRAMENTO—A fire prevention law was transformed into a litter law by the 1970 California Legislature.

The Vehicle Code section which prohibits throwing a lighted cigarette, cigar, match or other glowing substance on the highway has been applicable only outside of business or residence districts. After November 23, the effective date of the amendment, the law will be extended to all highways and will apply to non-lighted cigarettes, cigars, matches, and so forth, as well as lighted ones.

Penalties for littering have been expanded, too. Henceforth abstracts of convictions for all litter violations, whether under the Vehicle Code, Penal Code or Health and Safety Code, will be forwarded to the Department of Motor Vehicles to become a permanent part of the record, and a second or subsequent conviction for any of these violations will require a court appearance.

Minimum penalties are stipulated in the amendments, too, to add new weight to the prohibitions. Ten dollars is the minimum fine for the first offense, $25 for the second offense, and $50 for the third. Additionally, the judge may require the violator to spend not less than four hours on a second conviction and not less than eight hours on subsequent convictions picking up litter at a time and place specified by the court.

Pre-school for handicapped awarded federal grant

POMONA—Casa Colina Hospital for Rehabilitative Medicine and Claremont Graduate School, The Claremont Colleges, which have joined forces to develop a model pre-school for multiple handicapped children, have been awarded a federal grant under the Handicapped Children's Early Education Program by the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Announcement of the grant, which amounts to $65,989, is made today by Richard T. Moore, administrator of Casa Colina Hospital and Dr. Philip M. Rice, dean of Claremont Graduate School.

Casa Colina Hospital's emphasis on the needs of neurologically and multiple handicapped children is widely known throughout the Southwest United States. The pre-school, to be jointly sponsored and directed, is an extension of the Casa Colina preschool which has been in operation for six years as an integral part of the rehabilitation program at the hospital.

Twenty children can be accommodated in the program, which is to open for classes in January. Planning for curricula and services began Sept. 1 under the direction of Annabel Teberg, M.D., and Georgiana Feeney, Ph.D. A central aim of the model preschool project is to provide a pattern for education and rehabilitation of the handicapped in public schools and private institutions throughout the nation. The concept of teaching handicapped and other children in an integrated setting is a new one, heretofore untried. In order to form a broad-based foundation for such integrated instruction, an advisory council is planned. The council will be comprised of leaders from many segments of the community — educators, physicians, public school administrators, teachers, parents, and others.

The educational, medical, and paramedical team involved in the pre-school operation will evaluate children for eligibility in the program during the Fall months.

The program includes diagnostic services, and the development of motor — perceptual, verbal, conceptual, self-care, and social skills for handicapped children.

A most unusual and interesting aspect of the program is the plan for attendance of some of the handicapped children in the Mary B. Eyre Children's School of The Claremont Colleges, where they will be integrated with other children.

Special services, such as transportation and nutritional needs will be provided.

Parents participating in the program will receive special training in the management of their handicapped children, including counseling when required. They will have an opportunity to help plan and evaluate the total program. Brothers, sisters, grandparents, and others important to the handicapped child may also be included in the activities.

Many professional resources are available to the project. Herbert E.

Johnson, M. D., clinical director of Casa Colina, will be a consultant as will Malcolm P. Douglas, Ph. D., professor of education and director of the new Center for Developmental Studies, Claremont Graduate School.

Robert A. Keith, Ph. D., professor of psychology at Claremont Graduate School and director of research for Casa Colina, and Ralph Perry, M. D., pediatrician of Rancho Los Amigos, Downey, will also be consultants. Other educators and physicians with Pacific State Hospital, La Verne College, Los Angeles County Schools, and in private practice, will be available for consultation.

Perry Brooks

LA VERNE — Navy Petty Officer Third Class Perry D. Brooks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry W. Brooks of La Verne, has graduated from Electronic School at Service School Command, Great Lakes, Ill. He is a 1968 graduate of Bonita High School, La Verne.

Gridiron heroes return to Chaffey

ALTA LOMA — Chaffey College will host its gridiron heroes of 50 year back when Grossmont played here Saturday, Nov. 6, under the lights. Coach Henry A. Schott, age 79, is calling his Chaffey College teams of 1921 through 1923 together for a reminiscence pep talk at 4 p.m. in Chaffey's staff lounge.

Schott, Chaffey's first coach of organized sports, will be accompanied by his wife, Pearl, and he's hoping his players of long ago will follow suit. The Schotts, who reside at 421 N. Pasadena Ave., Glendora, celebrated their golden anniversary May 31.

The venerable coach, later claimed by Citrus College until his retirement in 1953, couldn't have chosen a better season for a reunion of his Fighting Farmers, Chaffey's Farmers are now known as Panthers.

The Panthers, also once deemed a vanishing species, seem headed for a very good year in the Mission Conference. Chaffey has three straight conference wins and a tie to date with three games to go, including the one with Citrus after Grossmont.

After their first huddle in a half century, the football veterans will break bread in the staff dining room at 5:30.

The Fighting Farmers will be seated by 7:30 game time in a special section of the stadium to cheer the Panthers on.

Working with Schott and the college to put the reunion together are two of his key players, Ed Salter of Orange, and Converse H. York of Glendora.

With the help of Charles J. Booth, dean emeritus now, the college has identified most of the other surviving players by addresses as well as full names. They are:

Floyd Andreas, Borrego Springs; Paul Andreas, Santa Ana; Douglas Black, Claremont; Vincent Claypool, San Carlos; Fred Dean, Yakima, Wash.; Paul H. Hare, Long Beach; Lowell Hill, Palm Desert; Nelson Hohl, Long Beach; William Hippard, Orange; F. Haven Leavitt, Placerville; Heaper N. MacMillan, Claremont; Cyrus C. McClean, Santa Monica; Harold Rucker, Paradise; Orton Woodhead, Riverside.

Only fragmentary information exists on the remaining survivors, two of whom are missing first names and another with an address as broad as South Africa. They are:

Bailey, Bob Campbell, Alex Cordes (South Africa), Jack Cowan, E. Diener, Fred Edwards, John M. Gast, Frank Goldner, Ralph Graves, Hurphy Hadlock, Tressler Haney, Ingram, Harold Knudson, Malcolm Matheson, George Woodbury.

Of course Booth will be there. He lives in Claremont. And it's just possible that another rooter for the Farmers will be on hand. He is Harry Hedges, one-time business manager for the associated student body, who lives at Laguna Beach.

T. Stanley Warburton, current president of the college, will attend as a greeter. Schott remembers him from Citrus days.

Football has changed since Coach Schott's time when — like bullfighting — it was always in the afternoon. So, too, has the date of the Chaffey College campus, no longer in Ontario, but at 5885 Haven Ave., Alta Loma.

Dinner, by the way, is $3 each. The game and the fellowship are free. Further details and reservations may be had by calling the college at (714) 987-1737 or 822-7456, extension 207.

Dr. Warburton reports that 11 of the players will be unable to join their peers at this homecoming. The dead Farmers are O. K. Anderson, Les Cole, Bill Cushing, Art Donnelly, Kenneth Dunagan, Ernest Frane, Robert Goodwin, Howard Mitchell, Clyde Patton, Robert Shaffer, Tevis Westgate.

That's enough to make up a team. They could be holding a homecoming some place else.

Legal shennanigans aimed at alien

LOS ANGELES — A young Baird's Tapir at the Los Angeles Zoo has been placed under arrest.

How did a shy, docile Tapirus Bairdii (Central American cousin to the horse) run afoul of the law? Did he, perhaps, deal in grass? Piffle peanuts from Zoo visitors? Contribute to the delinquency of minor geese in his enclosure? Was it — indecent exposure?

Legal documents ordering the Tapir's arrest and confinement were delivered to the Zoo by a U. S. Marshal, according to Chester E. Hogan, director. The Tapir, it seems, is an illegal alien.

The Tapir Caper began last February when the "prisoner" was seized in the wilds of Los Angeles International Airport by government officials who questioned his immigration status. He was two months old.

Tapirs are an "endangered species" protected by rigid international export and import laws. Tapirs without papers, in other words, are animalia non grata. And private animal dealers who try to pass them off as ordinary tourists are inviting legal action.

Legal action in this case has resulted in fines for the dealer and official prisoner status for the tapir, who has been enjoying his unofficial stay at the zoo since February and has gained almost 200 pounds on the gourmet fare.

Naming the tapir Defendant in a legal action by the U. S. Government has posed interesting problems for his guardians, the Zoo Officials. Is the tapir entitled to legal defense? Is there a local branch of the Bar Association which specializes in the peculiar problems of Perissodactyl immigrants?

What are a tapir's constitutional rights and how may he be informed of these? (Does anybody here talk tapir?)

Who should serve the papers? And will the defendant be able to digest the contents, or will he, goatlike, merely swallow the form?

Area students are finalists

POMONA — Local high school students who have been entered in Southern California Edison Company's annual competition to select outstanding science students to attend the 1971 National Youth Conference on Science and the Environment were named.

The name of the winning student from this area who will represent the electric utility's Central Division will be announced later, according to V. F. Martin, Edison district manager. Students from this region who are being considered in the final judging include:

Sandy Buckley, 5628 Granada St., Montclair, Montclair High School; Douglas A. Coats, 1221 Via Esperanza, San Dimas, San Gabriel Academy; Valerie Coffman, 6928 Canterwood, La Verne, Bonita High; George S. Rose III, 1866 Morning Canyon Rd., Diamond Bar, Walnut High School.

Law helps vets

LOS ANGELES—It appears that many severely disabled World War II veterans are not taking advantage of a public law which, among other things, provides funds for the purchase, repair or replacement of special adaptive equipment for their automobiles.

Gordon R. Elliott, Director of VA's Southern California Regional Office, pointed out that the VA is authorized to grant money toward the purchase of and automobile for veterans who suffered the loss, or loss of use of, one or more hands or feet or both eyes in military service. The new law raised the VA auto grant from $1,600 to $2,800, and also authorized VA to pay for adaptive devices needed on replacement cars purchased in the past.

Elliott explained that those who previously received grants — whether amount was $1,600 or $2,800 — cannot receive a second purchase grant, but they can receive payment for the cost or installation of adaptive devices purchased since January 1, 1971.

Judging from the number of applications on hand, VA feels that many veterans are not aware they are eligible for the special equipment addition to their cars.

Interested veterans are urged to contact their nearest VA office or veterans service organization representative. VA offices are listed in the phone directory under "United States Government."

FP committee plans cultural events

CLAREMONT - The Foothill Philharmonic committee continuing their goal to help create future audiences for the Los Angeles Philharmonic, will sponsor their first bus trip of the season into the Music Center so that local children may attend a Youth Concert on Saturday morning, Nov. 6.

Mrs. R. Craig McManigal, Youth Chairman of the Committee, is in charge. Eight chaperones from the membership of the Committee will attend.

A group from the Los Angeles Dance Theater will join the Los Angeles Philharmonic to present this concert entitled, "Dances From Many Lands". It will include: Copland; Buckaroo Holiday from "Rodeo"; Musorgsky; Gopak (from The Fair at Sorotchinsk); Skalkottas; Greek Dances; Traditional; Chasidic Dances from Israel; De Falla; Dance of Terror and Ritual Fire - Dance from "El Amor Brujo".

In addition to sponsoring a fall and spring bus trip to the Music Center, the Committee has voted to distribute 19,000 copies of brochures giving the programs of future Symphonies for Youth this season.

From this information, parents may order tickets brochures will be distributed to three school districts in the area. Children from the fourth grade through junior high will receive them.

Members of the Committee currently are preparing for a Dec. 4 dinner dance to be held in the foyer of Big Bridges (Bridges Auditorium, Pomona College). The success of this event will insure future participation of the youth from our area in the cultural presentations of our southland.

Course for Apt. managers

ONTARIO - Reservations for the Apartment Resident Manager's Course are being taken by the Apartment Association.

The seminar will be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday, Nov. 13, at the Elks Lodge, 1150 W. 4th St., Ontario. The seminar is open to the public.

Mrs. Eleanor Warren, Executive Director of the Association may be reached at 5196 Benito St., Montclair between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. daily, or by calling 626-2015. Reservations for the seminar are $15 per person or $25 per couple. The seminar will cover information and procedures for all persons connected with apartments, including owners, managers, and investors.

Topics such as renting, purchasing, maintenance, agreements, tenant selection and qualification choosing a manager, reports and receipts, evictions, delinquency policies, and rent collection and procedures are among the items to be covered.

Speakers will be Larry Gutwiler and George Parker, both of whom have spent many years in apartment management. The course is a set outline of seminars held in Los Angeles and Southern California by the Institute of Real Estate Management and is being held in this local area for the first time.

Flicks on women set

CLAREMONT - Four films dealing with women -- their history, problems and lives--will be shown at Scripps College during November and early December.

Sponsored by the student bodies of Scripps College and Claremont Men's College, the movies are open to the public free of charge.

"The Cats," a Swedish film exploring aspects of female sexuality, will be shown at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 17 in the Humanities Center Auditorium at Scripps.

A recent movie charting female socialization in America, "Growing Up Female," is scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, Nov. 30 in the Humanities Center Auditorium.

The last film in the series, "Village Teacher," will be screened at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Dec. 9 in the Humanities Center Auditorium. The Russian movie explores the Socialist understanding of women as it follows a village teacher from pre-revolutionary Russia to the beginning of World War II.

Detour will delay traffic

SAN BERNARDINO -- All late night traffic through Route 10/15/395 (Colton) Interchange will be subject to minor delays during the next ten days between 11 p.m. and 6 a.m. due to bridge construction operations, according to the California Division of Highways in San Bernardino.

On Friday night, Nov. 5, and the following Monday, Nov. 8, westbound Route 10 traffic through Redlands will be routed onto the San Bernardino connection to the Orange Show Road Interchange and then re-routed south and west to the intended destination.

On Tuesday, Nov. 9, eastbound Route 10 traffic passing through Colton will be routed onto the Riverside (south) connector ramp and then re-routed via the Washington Street Interchange.

The detours will be well signed to assist motorists to their destinations once they have left the through lanes. The restrictions will be lifted daily by 6 a.m. but will be in effect from approximately 11 p.m. the preceding night in accordance with the foregoing schedule.

Inclement weather could cause postponement or revision of schedules, but no change in the hours of closure.

Ill winds of windstorms worse than hurricanes

NEW YORK - Among the ill winds that blow no good tornados and hurricanes are considered the arch-villains. Now comes word that the ordinary garden variety windstorm wreaks more damage than its celebrated cousins do.

Figures compiled by the National Weather Service show that windstorms accounted for at least $50 million in property damage in the United States for each of the last ten years -- and in some of those years caused more than $500 million in damage.

"We don't hear much about windstorms because few people are affected by each of them," says Edwin P. Wiegell, public affairs officer for the National Weather Service.

"The big storms like Celia get the headlines. Yet year in and year out it's the rather ordinary winds that account for the greatest property damage."

The average number of hurricanes and tropical storms is about four, the average number of tornados about 600 and the number of windstorms -- many of them with violently destructive winds -- is estimated in the tens of thousands.

Windstorms are also a significant, though unrecognized, cause of death. Lightning from electrical storms kills more people each year on the average than any other weather event. It is common for windstorms to blow at hurricane speeds of 75 miles an hour for brief periods. Mr. Wiegell comments. "These short bursts of speed inflict considerable damage by blowing off shingles, damaging crops or causing unstable buildings to collapse."

"Unless it is anchored, a mobile home can be overturned by even a 45 mile-per-hour wind if it happens to hit at just the wrong angle. Winds that would merely rip the shingles off a conventional house can send an unsecured mobile home rolling like an empty shoebox."

Wiegell strongly advises that mobile homes be anchored with tie-down equipment. Dr. Richard H. Simpson, director of the National Hurricane Center, says, "I wouldn't think of leaving my mobile home without straps attached to holdfasts embedded in concrete."

When a windstorm is anticipated it's a good time to stay indoors but away from electrical appliances. If you should happen to be caught outdoors remember to keep away from lightning conductive objects. Many persons aware of this still remain too close to trees. Twice the tree's height is a safe distance.

A windstorm usually passes quickly, usually in the matter of a few hours. Remember, however, that windstorms sometimes give rise to tornados. Tune in your radio or television receiver and listen for warnings.

Bounty on Bald Eagles announced

WASHINGTON, D.C. - The National Wildlife Federation has announced a $500 bounty for information leading to the conviction of anyone shooting a bald eagle anywhere in the United States.

Federation Director Thomas L. Kimball said the reward program was started as a result of hunters throughout the U. S. expressing their outrage at the recently revealed mass slaughter of eagles in Wyoming.

The bald eagle, America's national bird and emblem, is in serious trouble from hard pesticides and diminishing habitat. The southern race of bald eagle found in the eastern half of the U. S. is classified as an endangered species by the U.S. Interior Department. The total bald eagle population in the lower forty-eight states may contain as few as three to four thousand birds.

Since 1940 it has been against Federal law to shoot or otherwise molest bald eagles, but as their numbers decline, illegal shooting is becoming a more important factor working against the bird's survival. A national furor was raised when recent testimony before a Senate subcommittee in Washington revealed that air-borne sharpshooters were hired by local ranchers in Rawlins, Wyoming, area to slaughter eagles and other wildlife. More than 65 golden and bald eagles were reported in a pile at one ranch.

"Frankly," Kimball said, "American hunters are tired of being tarred and feathered for the actions of criminals erroneously identified as hunters."

Effective immediately, the Federation will pay a $500 reward upon verifying that the claimant's information was of substantial assistance in obtaining a conviction for shooting a bald eagle (Haliaeetus leucocephalus) in violation of 16 USC 668.

The claimant must request the reward in writing to the National Wildlife Federation 1412 16th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20036, within six months after conviction. If more than one bald eagle was shot by the convicted person, $500 will be awarded for one bird representing the total number shot.

Chaffey College presents play

ALTA LOMA -- West and East will meet in cultural conflict when Chaffey College stages "Teahouse of the August Moon" Nov. 11, 12 and 13.

John Patrick's award-winning play, based on Vern Sneider's novel, will be presented in the little theater with performances starting at 8:30 p.m. Drama teacher Art Sheppard will be the director.

Tickets for the Chaffey fall production at $1 each are available at the college bookstore. Reservations may be made for tickets at the door by calling 987-1737 or 822-7456, extension 246.

Design winner

Chaffey College interior design student Linda Murray is the winner of a home color-combination and floor-plan contest marking "Debut '72," a promotion by the home furnishing industry and Paul Hotel, Upland furniture store owner, who sponsored the contest. Eleven beginning students of interior design participated under Chaffey's Shirley Nash.

Federal funds sought by March of Dimes

LOS ANGELES - An intensified public health campaign to vaccinate the hard to reach preschool child is necessary to avert another rubella epidemic, Dr. Virginia Apper, vice president for medical affairs of The National Foundation - March of Dimes, has advised a Senate committee. She urged appropriation of at least $13.5 million in federal funds to carry out programs to reach the unvaccinated population.

Some 23 million youngsters have been vaccinated in public health drives and another 3 million by private physicians. This population is the primary source of rubella contagion, a major cause of birth defects and fetal deaths.

"But, she cautioned, a much more intensive effort will be required to eliminate congenital rubella as a public health problem. To achieve sufficiently high levels of immunity, stepped-up campaigns to reach preschool children must be launched," she said.

The rubella epidemic of 1964-65 caused about 30,000 fetal deaths as well as severe birth defects in some 20,000 newborns. Although German measles is usually a mild childhood disease, it is a severe threat to every pregnant woman because of the disastrous results it may have upon her unborn child.

Get involved volunteer

LOS ANGELES - Local women with spare time they wish to put to use in assisting a vital community health service are needed by the Los Angeles County Heart Association's East San Gabriel Valley Division. The local Heart office has an immediate need for volunteers to be trained as technicians in the association's heart sounds screening program, a process of screening fourth-grade school children for detection of heart disorders.

Interested persons may contact the East San Gabriel Valley Division office regarding qualifications and information. Those qualifying will be thoroughly trained in an upcoming course in the operation of Phonocardiogram instruments, compact computers programmed to distinguish abnormal heart sounds.

The screening process is designed to detect heart ailments at an early age of the children so that parents can consult their family physicians for steps that can be taken to alleviate or possibly even totally eliminate the disorders.

The East San Gabriel Valley Division will be conducting heart sounds screenings during the 1971-72 school year for thousands of fourth-graders in the elementary schools of the rowland, Glendora and Hacienda-la Puente school districts.

These three screenings comprise a substantial portion of the Heart Association's county-wide efforts in the demonstration program which hopefully will lead to its adoption on a permanent basis by the school districts themselves.

Requirements decreased for MSAC grads

WALNUT -- Requirements for graduation from Mt. San Antonio College have been decreased according to Dr. Thomas J. O'Connor, vice president - academic affairs. Students were previously required to accrue a minimum of 64 college credits in order to graduate. That number has been lessened to 60 units effective this Fall semester.

Most of the general education requirements will remain the same, except in the behavioral sciences, including psychology, anthropology, sociology, and human relations. Prior requirements concentrated on psychology to fulfill this requirement.

The residency requirement has also been changed. Students are required to accrue 45 college units in residency, or accumulate 12 units at MSAC, and take their last semester before graduation at the College.

The recommendation for the graduation requirement change came from the College Council, a committee composed of representatives from the administration and the various departments on the campus. The committee studied the need for some two years, developing an academic master plan for the College, then made its recommendation to the Board of Trustees. The recommendation was approved by the Board during its February meeting, to be effective beginning this Fall.

Telemed answers medical questions

LOMA LINDA - The dilemma of orienting the wife of a stroke victim upon his release from the hospital, and answers to critical health questions concerning VD and drug abuse, are but two of the many health aids which will be recorded on magnetic tapes of 3 to 8 minutes by the simple dialing of a toll-free number.

Dr. Richard T. Walden, Coordinator, Regional Medical Programs in the San Bernardino, Riverside, Inyo and Mono counties announced that a federal grant of $25,000 for project "TELEMED" - A Personal Health Education Project - received the highest priority rating in the State of California upon its approval for funding in Area VI.

The population within the toll-free dial distance of San Bernardino Metropolitan Area is 184,000, of which approximately 20% is Mexican-American. Heavy emphasis will be placed on the provision of information to migrants, blacks, children under five years of age, and women of child-bearing age who do not have adequate family planning information.

In an effort to conserve manpower and lower cost of health care, individuals must be active in their own health management.

AREA SPORTS— Montclair Pop Warner has gloomy homecoming

MONTCLAIR -- Montclair Pop Warner celebrated homecoming last weekend, but the occasion wasn't exactly joyous. Of the six Montclair Pop Warner teams only the Marauders came away with a win.

The Pee Wee Marauders downed the SDLV Gladiators 12-0 for their fifth win of the season against two defeats to remain third in league standings.

The game was scoreless at half time as Kent Gurney had a 68 yd. TD run called back because of a clipping penalty on the last play of the half. In the third quarter J.B. Goff passed to Mike Munoz for 22 yds. and the Marauders first TD.

Gurney cracked over from the one yd. line for the second TD in the fourth quarter.

Ron Frusher, Don Frusher, Gurney, Munoz, Craig Heaps and Goff were standouts on offense while Rick Adams, Mike Corsaro, Devin Coulter, Dennis Taccogna, Jerry Aubrey, Perry Walton, Mike Diaz and Tony Garcia played a fine game on Defense. Aubrey also had a fumble recovery.

In the Junior Pee Wee Division the Renegades lost a hard fought game to the Upland T-Birds 12-0.

Optimistic coaches supervise football league

Alvarado, Giano and Rincon

ROWLAND HEIGHTS-- Are you in junior high and enjoy the athletic type of competition, or would you just like to come out and play at a supervised playground where coaching help is available? Alvarado, Giano and Rincon are presently engaged in Flag Football League activity and field teams in both 7th and 8th grade levels.

At Alvarado, Grant Sieler is working with the 7th grade teams, and Bill Steward is working with 8th grade teams. The Alvarado facility is open Monday through Friday from 2:30-4 p.m. Coaches Stewart and Sieler both agree that this is the year of the "Matador" in football.

At Giano, Steve Waylett handles the 7th grade and Jim Roth the 8th grade. The Giano facility is open Monday, Wednesday and Thursday from 3 to 4:30 p.m. and on Tuesday from 2:30 to 4 p.m. They close on Friday. Both coaches feel that the "green wave" will roll over this year.

At Rincon, Greg Carter will work with the 7th grade boys and Jack Coopridge with the 8th grade boys. The Rincon facility is open Monday through Friday from 2:30 to 4 p.m. These coaches say the "Mighty Roadrunners" will be on top at the season's end.

The Rowland Recreation Department sponsors a sports league for 7th and 8th grade schools in flag football, basketball, soccer, wrestling, track and field, and softball. All interested junior or high boys should contact their school for further information.

Bonita crushes Chino

LA VERNE--The Bonita Bearcats were expected to win their final match with the Chino Cowboys, and win they did. When the offensive fireworks ended, Bonita had racked up their highest point total of the season and crushed Chino 47-6.

Some of the stars of the game for the Bearcats include many familiar names. Old Curtis Frick scored the first three Bonita TD's with runs of 9, 40 and 1. Lanky wide receiver, Dave Shamblin, caught 3 TD passes. Two were delivered by QB Ray Anderson (34 and 53 yds.). One was fired by a rifle-armed rookie named Steve Hines for 50 yards.

The Bearcats' dominated statistically in every department. Vic Blatch scored from 25 out.

Curiously the Bearcats' rushing-passing yardage was exactly the same. Curtis Frick led on the ground with 159. Chino's high rusher was Kim Westlund (73 yards).

Anderson passed for 153 yards and Steve Hines threw for 113. Chino was held to just 34 yards in the air, 17 of those on a Mark Dotta to Rich Hernandez aerial.

The Cowboys' only TD was set up in the first frame when they marched 64 yards in 7 plays. The Dotta-Hernandez pass for 17 took Chino to Bonita's one and Westlund scored from point blank range.

Many of Bonita's reserves proved themselves when given a chance. Among them was of course Steve Hines, who operated coolly, faked good and passed exceptionally well (4 for 5-1 interception). Derrick Daniels rushed for 34 yards and had two very good runs nullified by penalties. Jim Bartlett and Alfie Thomas defended well. Both showed their ability to stop runners.

Bartlett recovered a fumble for Bonita. Steve Branam also recovered one. Gabe Ornelas picked off two, and Rick Aris and Larry Morgan each had one. Larry Morgan drilled three kicked conversions and ran another when a low center snap couldn't be set up.

John Wallace caught 3 passes, as did Frick. Shamblin got 5 for 170 yards. Mark Medeiros moved to middle line backer, with Greg Thompson out for the season after a knee operation, was sharp. There were others who should be given a lot of credit.

Saints win

SAN DIMAS--The San Dimas Saints took a giant step toward a serious challenge for a top spot in the Arrowhead League Saturday night when they came from behind to ease by Big Bear, 21-20. It was a stunning and dramatic climax to a hard-fought game.

The narrow margin held up until the third quarter when Big Bear reserve QB Gary Caldwell, subbing for injured

Tim McGrath, rifled a 33-yard bomb to Drew Willy. The Saints appeared to be marching toward another score when an errant Steve Barnard pass was picked off by the Bears' Steve Pettis, who rambled 45 yards to a TD.

With 57 seconds remaining in the third, tackle Rick Surdick blocked a Bear punt and rambled 22 yards to score with a good conversion by Barnard and Nelson. With 1:35 to go, Barnard threw a pass toward Newborn and the fans came to their feet as he made an unbelievable catch and went 58 yards to score, ending it at 21-20.

What appeared to be certain defeat was turned into a miracle win.

San Dimas' Jeff Nelson played one of the finest games of his career, as he literally carried the team defensively during the first half. His mates Bob Rollins and Dave Johnson really put out a great effort.

Perez Shoemaker and Randy Spahr were burdened with filling up the gap in the Saints' backfield with Moses on the bench, and did a fine job.

Slo pitch

Earl T. Casler beat D & M Metals 5-2 in the Upland winter slo pitch to throw them into a tie with the Bombers for 1st place. In the best played game of the year, the Bombers beat U. S. 2-1 to keep them in contention for the title.

In the upset of the week U. S. beat Earl T. Casler 4-1 in a good defensive game. The week of November 1 is the final week of play in the league and the Bombers and D & M Metal are headed for a likely tie.

versary season, the San Bernardino Civic Light Opera Association is doing what steamship companies have been doing for years -- telling the public that going on a cruise is fun.

When the trans-Atlantic cruise ships anchor Nov. 12 for a limited run in the California Theatre of Performing Arts, the Cole Porter Musical comedy "Anything Goes" will have a host of outstanding Broadway performers aboard.

Chita Rivera, star of Broadway, motion pictures and television will head the large cast, as a former lady-evangelist who has seen "the light" and turned brassy-night-club singer.

The leading man who sails aboard the trans-Atlantic liner on sudden impulse and without passport is stage and television star Michael Callan. The passenger-cast list also included Bryon Webster, Paul Craik, veteran actor and Civic Light Opera favorite.

Single or season tickets can be secured at the Civic Light Opera ticket office, 2079 North E St., San Bernardino, daily except Sunday, 9:30 to 5:30 phone 882-2545, or Harris', Riverside and San Bernardino, all mutual agencies or the following location: Ontario Chamber of Commerce.

LOS ANGELES--There were 1,585,000 veterans enrolled in schools and colleges and job training programs under the G.I. Bill during Fiscal Year 1971.

Gordon R. Elliott, Director of VA's Southern California Regional Office, disclosed this was the highest participation under VA auspices since 1952, and was a 31-percent increase over 1970.

In Southern California there were 109,196 veterans enrolled. Included in the record-breaking 1,585,000 national figure was 917,000 veterans studying at the college level, which was a 36-percent hike in college enrollments over the Fiscal Year 1970. The 1,585,000 total also included 522,000 attending schools below the college level, and 146,000 in apprenticeship and job training programs, Elliott noted.

Sizeable increases were recorded also in two other VA education programs not included in these totals: vocational rehabilitation training for disabled veterans, and educational assistance for wives, widows and children of deceased veterans and/or those permanently and totally disabled. Vocational rehabilitation increased 25 per cent to a total of 30,000 during 1971. Some 60,000 women and children were aided during 1971, a 14-percent increase over last year. Total enrollment including veterans, servicemen, wives, widows and orphans came to 1,675,000, a net increase of 30 per cent over the previous year.

Full information on veteran education programs is available from any VA office or veterans service organization.

STEIN BLOCH SUITS

Stein Bloch is universally acknowledged to be one of the world's finest clothing brands. It's one of three top labels carried by Harris & Frank. From initial cutting to final hand pressing, these suits express the very best in craftsmanship and tailoring art. Fabrics are second to none and patterns are so limited as to make each Stein Bloch Suit virtually unique. Styling, neither extremely avant garde, nor ultra conservative, marks the wearer of a Stein Suit as a man of discrimination and exceptional good taste.

HARRIS & FRANK WILL PAY YOU

TO TRY ONE

(for a limited time only!)

The new Stein Bloch Suits have just arrived. They are priced at $175. Hundreds of men pay that regularly at our stores. They gladly pay this price for no other suit so completely satisfies them, regardless of price.

Now, and for a very short time only, Harris & Frank will pay $50 when you buy a Stein Bloch Suit. You may take your $50 as a reduction in the price of the suit, thus the suit will cost you just $125. Or you may pay full price of $175 and select $50 worth of shirts, neckwear other merchandise of your choice in any department of our stores.

Thus, you pay no more for a Stein Bloch than you would for an ordinary suit.

WHY DO WE DO THIS?

We have made this offer on three previous occasions. As a result more men are today wearing Stein Bloch clothes from Harris & Frank than ever before in our history. We know that once YOU wear a Stein Bloch Suit you will gladly pay $175 for your next one. That is the reason for this offer.

NOTICE TO OUR REGULAR STEIN BLOCH CUSTOMERS: Of course this offer goes for you, too. If you are planning to purchase your next Stein Bloch Suit in the near future why not do it now and pocket this $50 saving.

SPAN program helps addicts

POMONA-The Special Project for Alcoholism and Narcotics (SPAN), a first time program of help and hope for paroled alcoholics and narcotics addicts which will combine the talents and facilities of a college, parolees and the California Department of Correction (CDC), has begun at California State Polytechnic College, Kellogg-Voorhis, Pomona.

The dual purpose of SPAN, said Dr. Albert J. Aschenbrenner, Cal Poly dean of arts and college administrator for the program, is the rehabilitation of prison inmates and the provision of community workers who have in effect "been the route" with narcotics or alcohol and who will be credible to minority groups, youth and the general population when dealing with those and other social problems.

Nissen, who has been in corrections work for 19 years, and most recently was unit supervisor of the Ontario parole office, said this program has been given national priority and impetus because "we must find ways to utilize constructively the brains and energy of paroled felons."

In addition, Richard A. McGee, former director of the CDC, said the use of "trained male and female . . . (parolees) to fight alcoholic addiction and narcotic addiction in the free society has tremendous possibilities."

Any prisoner close to parole at any California correctional institution may apply for the SPAN program. These applicants are interviewed and chosen by peer group members, former convicts, SPAN officials, and college and CDC personnel. After they are selected, the men are quartered at the California Institution for Men, Chino, and the women at the California Institution for Women, Corona, for the initial three months of the program.

Each series of SPAN programs will enroll 20 parolees, 15 men and five women, and be conducted for four quarters of the year with a new group of 20 persons beginning the series each quarter.

The first phase of SPAN will consist of classes taught for both the men and women at CIM where inmates will take group dynamics, community social organization and interview skills for individuals, groups and families.

During phase two, said Nissen, the trainees will continue their group sessions at the SPAN headquarters on the Cal Poly, Pomona campus and be enrolled for at least 8 units of college work.

Under the guidance of parole and community service personnel, trainees will undertake community field work during phase three of their program. In addition to this work, they will continue to attend college classes and will receive a small stipend from the NIMH grant.

If the trainees are successful in their internships, they will be placed in a social help or service related job. To assist organizations who hire the trainees, the NIMH grant also has been funded to provide half the trainee's salary for six months.

While the trainees are in the program, and for some time after they secure jobs, they are under the supervision of SPAN personnel, parole agents and faculty advisers, in addition to training and this supervision, the grant money provides for a clinic operation to dispense methadone and alcohol aversives, if they are needed, for the trainees.

Nissen said tremendous amounts of effort, time, planning, administration, and hope have been given to this program by the parole-trainees, the CDC, Cal Poly, and those prisoners within the correctional institutions who feel the success of this one program will provide a basis for a new approach to felon rehabilitation.
